Green Crescent Public Art Project- Ann Godfrey, Christopher Lutter-Gardela

The Green Crescent- part of 35W at 94 construction project

It is a trail and park on the west side of 35w at Lake Street. It will be a connection between the upcoming Lake Street Transit and Midtown Greenway. It will feature an asphalt bike trail and pedestrian trail, sloping up to lake street from midtown greenway.

Retaining walls along 35w will feature “wave walls” as public art component as decided by community. Project managers have been working closely with steering community to decide artistic direction of the project. Have worked with steering committee and conducted extensive community outreach. The outcomes of that process is the desire for a Gateway or wayfinding feature that includes light.

Goals of the project

Welcoming space for all.

Space that explores and supports ideas of connection

Bold iconic gateway

Inspirational

Grand and timeless artistic gesture

Durable- to benefit Minneapolis for years to come

Construction timeline

East retaining wall- in progress

West wall- March 2019

Seeding- Summer 2019

Grading- Fall 2019

Lake Street Transit Station- unknown 2021

Chris artist

Interactive Sculptor. Wolf and Moose interactive sculptures featured at Loring Park Holiday are his pieces.

Primary direction from steering committee he received is that movement is tantamount. Keep traffic flowing through the area. Want to promote this as an area of connection. This is reinforced thematically by waved retaining walls.

Strongest feedback from community, was an installation to celebrate diversity of four bordering neighborhoods and celebrates nature.

Chris decided to use the nature theme and use creatures that lived here before colonization, representative of the biomes of Minnesota. Use animals to represent human attributes.

- Bison - Strength, resilience
- Elk - Love
- Black Bear - water and healing

Directive was to be iconic, these will be large scale installations that would create a signature for the project and be a landmark public art piece. They would be very large representations that would feature lighting and interactive features of light and naturalistic features.

Sketches of ideas and designs were passed out for feedback.

Blaisdell Protected Bikeway Extension- Chris Karthheiser, City of Minneapolis Public Works

Chris is the Project Manager for upgrade of existing bike infrastructure on Blaisdell from Franklin to Lake. This corridor is part of the City's protected bikeway master plan. Complete network with east/west connections at 26th and 28th. Goal is to enhance comfort of bike facilities by increased separation from cars.

There is existing bike lane along this corridor this project will be to increase buffer between bikes and cars and put up ballards separating bike lane from traffic.

Details

- Franklin to 26th - 6ft bike lane 2 ft buffer
- At 26th - 7ft bike lane with 5ft buffer
- Project will reduce travel lanes by several feet on Blaisdell Avenue by several feet, however they were above standard
- Will not reduce any parking capacity as it is improvement of already existing

Timeline

- Engagement- Presently
- Design- Doesn't require much engineering - new lines and ballards installation
- Installation- sometime in the summer exact date is TBD
 - will look to not impede traffic
 - Installation will happen overnight

Concerns/Questions/Comments

What is the goal with bike lanes?

Every other block is a bike path

“protected bikeways” are very intentional. Goal is to have be continuous to protect bikers and provide full network. Bicycle counts for 11 years- data back from 2007 shows that bike lanes have gone up there has been an uptick in bike traffic.

Physical barriers have been shown to increase driver safety reduced speeds among other more cautious factors

Concern over the parking situation regarding bike lane relationship with parking spots on Nicollet on 26th

Concerns regarding signage and right of way

Connection to Lasalle goes from unprotected to protected

All these directives are products of research, community engagement and following the City Master Plan. Speed is primary factor in crashes of all kinds of traffic, bike related and non, and bike infrastructure is proven to reduce traffic speeds to accepted limits.

Vision Zero- get to zero traffic deaths by 2027

Vision Zero Action Plan is currently being drafted.

Dave Hutch- Hennepin County Sheriff Elect

Happy to have won a closely contested election and is eager to get to work, primary focus in a district like this is to do a better job of communication with MPD and support them.

Points of priority for Sheriffs office moving forward.

- Immigrant interaction- people must feel safe to report in their communities
- Addiction, opioid will partner with HCMC among other healthcare professionals
- Mental Health, had meeting today to adopt partnering patrol officers with mental health professional

Questions

Explain the legal rules that allowed deputy sheriffs to go to North Dakota pipeline?

Had agreement with those jurisdictions for emergency aid, Governor Dayton allowed it.

Will not send people out of county for non-emergency or non-life saving

How big is your team

Deputies 817 with clerks and other administrative Sheriffs departments employs 1,100

Departments in Sheriff Office

- Water patrol division

- Criminal
- ESD
- Jails and Courts
- Warrant Service Civil Service
- Transport
